INTERIOR JOURNAL'S GREAT $500 POPULARITY CONTEST STARTS SATURDAY, MAY 11

No Expense Has Been Spared to Make This the Greatest Contest Ever Attempted by a Country Newspaper—A Beautiful $350 Piano the Grand Prize.

DIAMOND RINGS AND ELGIN WATCHES

Are Among Other Prizes—Send in Nomination Today, Your Own Name or That of a Friend—Married or Single Ladies Are Eligible—Full Particulars of

The Interior Journal today announces its great $500 Prize Popularity Contest to decide who are the most popular young ladies in this section of Kentucky. It is without a doubt, the greatest campaign ever attempted by any country newspaper in this section of the state.

The Interior Journal has consistently stuck to the policy of giving its readers the very best value for their money, something in keeping with its position in the state and vicinity, something that is fair and honest, while at the same time maintaining the high standard that the Interior Journal has always fought for, both as a newspaper and as a moral influence in this part of the state.

Here is the idea.

In the next few weeks the Interior Journal is going to give away over $500 in prizes including a $350 Werner Piano, two beautiful Diamond Rings, two handsome Elgin Watches and a number of other prizes to the most popular young ladies in this section. The Interior Journal wants new subscribers and has gone to the great expense of buying these handsome prizes in order that we may get them quickly and at the same time advertise the paper extensively.

How Decided.

The young ladies to share in the distribution of these prizes will be decided by the popular vote of the people. Beginning today, there will be published in the Interior Journal a coupon which will be good for 25 votes for the young lady for whom it is voted. But by far the quickest and best method of securing votes is to get your friends and acquaintances to subscribe for the Interior Journal. Votes are issued according to the length of the subscription as explained in another part of this announcement.

Your friends will be glad to subscribe and help you win the prize you desire. Don't be afraid to ask them. Let them know you are in the contest to win and they will come to your aid in a manner that will surprise you. Not only your friends and acquaintances but other people in your section as well, will give their votes to you, if you show them that you really want to win. Hundreds of people have no personal friends in the contest and it has been the experience of the contest manager that these people throw their votes to some one in their neighborhood who is trying hard to make a winning campaign. Everyone likes to see an ambitious girl and is always glad to help those who help themselves.

Get an Early Start.

It is advisable that you get an early start in this great race for glory and prizes. Clip the nomination blank from to-day's issue, send it to the contest manager and ask him to send the printed matter to help in your campaign. It requires no extra time in such a campaign if you do not wish to give it, for we furnish various ways to help you. It is just a question of meeting your friends—acquaintances, and the people you see every day. To get started right and early in the race is the main thing. Then your friends will see that you do not lose out.

Who May Enter the Contest.

Any lady (either married or single) possessing a good character and residing in this section of Kentucky, may enter this contest. They do not have to be subscribers to the Interior Journal in order to enter; all that is necessary is to send in your wish to nominate. The nomination blank will count 1,000 votes for the lady so nominated. Votes may be clipped from the paper or secured on subscriptions. The votes which appear in the Interior Journal are good for 25 votes each, if voted before date of expiration printed on the coupon. Those issued on subscription are according to the length of the subscription as shown elsewhere in this announcement. Under the contest arrangement, you only have to compete against your own district to secure any of the district prizes. Candidates and their friends may secure votes and subscriptions anywhere.

How to Enter

By sending in the nomination blank appearing elsewhere, properly filled out, you will become a candidate in the great Popularity and Prize Contest. You can win one of the valuable prizes which will be given away in a few short weeks. A little effort, combined with perseverance and tact, all that is needful for you to win the one you want. The paramount question NOW is to enter your name in this competition. Immediately upon receipt of the nomination blank bearing your name the necessary books and instructions will be sent you.

The First Thing to Do.

Cut out the nomination blank and fill in with your name and address, etc., if you wish to nominate yourself, or with the name and address of any one whom you may wish to nominate. Be very careful to write plainly, so that there may be no possibility of an error being made. We also wish to impress upon candidates the importance of securing the correct name and addresses of all new subscribers, so that there may be no unnecessary delay in starting the names.

The Second Thing to Do.

Send or bring the nomination blank to the contest manager, Interior Journal office, and you will be credited with 1,000 votes toward winning one of the prizes, and will be given printed matter to be used in securing subscriptions to this paper. If you cannot call, phone or write, and a representative will call, and explain the plan of the contest in detail, and will render you assistance possible. It is better to ask questions than to have to correct mistakes later.

The Third Thing to Do.

As soon as you are nominated, see your friends; get them to subscribe in your favor to The Interior Journal (The vote scale will be found on this page). Send or bring all subscriptions to the contest department of The Interior Journal, together with the proper remittance, and upon receipt of same votes will be issued. Once started, do not grow discouraged. Pay no attention to how many votes some one else may tell they have to their credit, look after your own candidacy and thereby set a good example to the other candidates.

The Fourth Thing to Do.

As soon as you have secured one subscription, go after another in your spare time. This contest business need not interfere with your regular work. However, it you were to spend your time for the next few weeks doing nothing but securing subscriptions to the Interior Journal, the rewards for your efforts would quite suffice to pay you many times over.

Rules of the Contest.

The contest is open to any lady (either married or single) and possessing good character, residing within the limits of the territory of the contest.

Candidates and their friends may secure subscriptions anywhere.

No special ballots will be issued for less than a dollar.

Candidates must be entered from the district in which they reside, and cannot move from one district to the other and retain the votes to their credit in the former district.

The contest manager reserves the right to reject any candidate and to pass final judgment on any question which may arise.

Votes once issued cannot be changed to count for another candidate.

Candidates compete only against the contestants living in the same district as themselves for the district prizes.

The contest manager reserves the right to make any changes or alterations in the rules and conditions that may be necessary to the best interests of the contest.

No promise or agreement, either written or verbal, made by agents, solicitors or representatives, other than those published in the Interior Journal will be recognized.

The rules and conditions given above are to govern the contest of the Interior Journal, and all candidates entering the contest agree to be governed by the rules and conditions as above set forth.

How Votes are Secured

With every subscription to The Interior Journal, (when it is asked for) is given a ballot good for a certain number of votes, according to the length of the subscription. These ballots may be held as long as desired and voted at any time up to the last day of the contest. In fact, it is well to hold back a larger percentage of your vote ballots, as they no one knows how many votes you have, and are less likely to have someone who knows that you have turned in all of your subscriptions and had the vote published, to step in at the last moment, and secure the prize you desire. If you hold back part of your ballots, no one knows (not even contest department for no record is kept of vote ballots issued to you) how many votes must have to win, and will not take the chance of spending their money for nothing.

Value of Ballots

Following is the schedule of votes given on payments of subscriptions to the Stanford Interior Journal.

25 years	27,000 votes
20 years	21,000 votes
15 years	15,000 votes
10 years	9,600 votes
8 years	7,500 votes
5 years	4,500 votes
3 years	2,400 votes
2 years	1,500 votes
1 year	600 votes

How Prizes Will Be Distributed

The Grand Prize—the beautiful $350.00 Werner Piano—will be awarded to the contestant who has the highest vote polled in the entire contest.

The contestant standing highest in the first district after the grand prize has been awarded, will be given a handsome Diamond Ring.

The contestant standing second highest in the first district after the grand prize has been awarded, will be given a 15 jeweled Elgin Watch.

The contestant standing highest in the second district, after the grand prize has been awarded, will be given a handsome Diamond Ring.

The contestant standing second highest in the second district after the grand prize has been awarded, will be awarded a 15 jeweled Elgin Watch.

Division Of Districts

The territory of the contest will be divided into two districts as follows:

District No. 1. Includes the city of Stanford and all of Lincoln county.

District No. 2. Includes the territory outside of Lincoln county which is covered by the Interior Journal.

In sending in nominations always state the district in which the contestant resides and also give her post office address.

Address all nominations, inquiries, communications etc. to the Contest Manager, The Interior Journal, Stanford, Kentucky.

DREAD TYPHOID

TAKES S. D. BARTLEY

Prominent and Popular Traveling Man, Who Married Local Girl Dies Here Monday

S. D. Bartley died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Givens, on the Rush Branch pike Monday afternoon at one o'clock, after a lengthy illness of typhoid fever. His death, though not unexpected, as he has been very low for the past several days, comes as a heavy blow to the young wife, and the sympathy of a host of friends will go out to her in this deep hour of bereavement.

It has only been a few short years since Mr. Bartley came to Lincoln county, and wooed and won one of her fairest daughters. He was one of the most successful men on the road for the big Brinley-Hardy Machine Company, of Louisville, and made friends wherever he went. He became very popular in Stanford and to know him was to love him.

Mr. Bartley was a resident of Corydon, Ind., where he was one of the most prominent citizens. He was a member of the Christian church, and a leading Knight of Pythias. The lodge there telegraphed to Diadem lodge, of this city, to take charge of the remains and the local knights did everything possible.

Mr. Bartley was 52 years of age, and besides his wife, who was Miss Lucy Miller Givens, he is survived by a child, by a former marriage, and his aged parents, who arrived in time from their home in Indiana, to see their son before he passed over the dark river.

Services were conducted at the home of Mr. Givens on Tuesday, after which the remains were taken back to his old home in Indiana for interment.

BOWEN W. GIVENS

Makes Announcement Of His Candidacy For Sheriff

Bowen W. Givens today announces himself as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Sheriff of Lincoln county, subject to the action of the democracy at the primary which will be held the first Saturday in August, 1913.

Mr. Givens resides in the Hubble section of the county, and is one of the best known and hardest working democrats in this section. He has always been found on the firing line for the party, and unlike most of the hard workers, has never held office. His friends are now insisting that it is his time to be recognized and rewarded, and on this ground, they will line up solidly behind him.

Prominent Kentucky Woman Dead

Mary Campbell Hagerman, wife of Prof. B. C. Hagerman, president of Campbell-Hagerman Female College, of Lexington, died in Chicago last week, after an operation.

Mrs. Hagerman was one of the most widely-known women of Kentucky. She was a daughter of the late Alexander Campbell, founder of the Church of the Disciples, and former president of Bethany College West Virginia. She is survived by her husband, a daughter, Mrs. Harford Watson, of Chicago; her mother, Mrs. Alexander Campbell, of this city; five brothers, the Rev. Robert Campbell, of Danville, Alexander Campbell, of Bethany, W. Va., William Campbell, of Garv, Ind., Archibald Campbell, of San Francisco, and Ewing Campbell, of Reno, Nev., and one sister, Mrs. Alexander McGarv, of London, England.

FIVE NICE BUILDING LOTS FOR SALE.

If not sold privately, we will on court day Monday May 13, 1912 at 1:30 P. M., sell at public outcry to the highest bidder the following nice building lots in Stanford Kentucky.

Also 2 lots 60x138 feet facing Whitley street. These lots join each other. Will offer separate and then as a whole. Terms easy and right prices.

The sale will be made on Miller street between Logan and Whitley avenues. Hughes & Florence. We will also sell the residence of F. Eichenberger, close to the above lots, at the same time.

This place contains a five room residence. It is a full acre corner lot. Good barn, two good cisterns, cement cellar and all necessary out-buildings.

Big minstrels by K. of P. lodge, Friday night, May 10th.

ABE NEWTON DEAD

Prominent Hustonville Man Expires After Short Illness.

Hustonville, May 6.

Abe Newton died at his home here Sunday, after a short illness of a complication of troubles. Mr. Newton had been in Lebanon for several days, and returned home ill, and sank rapidly. Mr. Newton was 50 years of age, and had long been a resident of the West End, having been engaged in the hotel business for a number of years. The deceased is survived by his wife and seven children, three boys and four girls. Mr. Newton was interested with his brother, Sylvester Newton, in the Newton Hotel, at Somerset, and other enterprises. The remains were taken to Campbellsville Tuesday, for interment.

LOTS GO WELL

Satisfactory Prices Realized For Tracts in Land Addition

Much interest was manifested among real estate men and property buyers in the sale of the lots owned by the late W. B. Land, in the Land Addition to Stanford, on Lancaster street. There was a good crowd at the sale, notwithstanding the fact that there was no brass band to "whoop 'er up" as was the case when the addition was first opened. It is understood that the prices realized were satisfactory. The following bought lots:

Jailer Dink Farmer, two lots, one at $36 and one at $50; Commonwealth's Attorney George D. Florence, four lots, one at $30, one at $36, one at $42 and one at $49; P. W. Whipp two lots, one at $38 and one at $37; W. P. Buchanan, three lots, one at $54, one at $50 and one at $195. He later sold this last lot to S. J. Embry, Jr., for $200. Mr. Embry has another lot adjoining it. W. A. Carson got one lot for $38. R. M. Newland one for $84 and Mrs. Alice Land one for $570.

Confederate Train Wrecked

Hattiesburg, Miss., May 6.—Nine persons, including three women and two children, were and fifty-five persons injured when the first section of the "Van Zandt Confederate Veteran's Special" of eleven cars, en route from Texas to the annual reunion at Macon, Ga., was wrecked this morning on a trestle, a mile south of Eastabuchie, Miss., on the New Orleans & Northeastern railroad.

The locomotive, baggage car, one day coach and three tourist sleepers were derailed and tumbled down a high embankment, making a conglomerate mass of wood and iron debris. Although several hundred Confederates veterans were aboard the train, not one was numbered among the dead. Several of the veterans were injured, but none fatally.

Looks Like A Winner

Hon. Rodman W. Keenon, of Harrodsburg, who is a candidate for State Central Committeeman from the Eighth district, was here last Friday, looking over the situation, which he has found very favorable over the district. Mr. Keenon is County Attorney of Mercer, and is one of the best known young democrats in this part of the state. He looks like a sure winner.

The many friends here of Judge Andrew F. Evans, a brother of W. L. Evans, of Hustonville, and of the late Mrs. John C. Robinson, of Harrodsburg, will be interested in his appointment as City Attorney of Kansas City, at a salary of $8,000 a year.

Reserved seats on sale for K. of P. minstrels, price 50c, 35c, 25c.

MISS JACOBSON AND FETTRO QUIT FACULTY

Are Not Candidates For Re-Election—Two New Members Of School Board Chosen

Election of two city school trustees was held in Stanford Saturday to choose successors on the City Board of Education to Messrs. T. D. Raney and J. C. Eubanks, whose terms had expired. Mr. Raney was re-elected and Mr. B. Salin was chosen to take Mr. Eubanks' place on the board.

Election of school trustees is viva voce. This is the last election of this kind at which men only have the sole vote. Under the law recently passed by the legislature, women may vote at all school elections.

The School Board held a meeting last week and re-elected all of the present faculty of the Stanford Graded and High School, with the exception of Misses Bertha Jackson, teacher of elocution and expression, and Miss Ethel Fetro, of the vocal department. Neither was an applicant for re-election. The teachers who will have charge of these departments next term have not yet been selected. Much regret will be felt on all sides that these two most competent and popular instructors will not be in the faculty the coming school year. They have done splendid work on the faculty and their places will be very hard to fill.

Presidential Race.

The standing in the race for presidential delegates is as follows:

Republican—Taft 409, Roosevelt 235, LaFollette 36, Cummins, uninducted 46. A great many of the Taft delegates are contested.

Democratic—Clark 193, Wilson 114, Underwood 62, Harmon 8, uninducted 105.

Attention, Farmers

Saturday, May 11th, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at Stanford court house, the farmers of the entire county are urged to be present. The occasion is the last lecture of a series delivered by Prof. Wm. M. Martin, assistant state organizer of the Farmers' Union, Kentucky division. Mr. Martin is thoroughly informed and will instruct and entertain all who hear him. The principal purpose and expectations of the organization will be explained. All questions will be gladly answered. All farmers and their friends are urged to be present at the courthouse on this occasion.

Mrs. Chasteen Dies in the West End.

Mrs. Priscilla Chasteen, beloved wife of Henry Chasteen, fell asleep to awaken, some bright morning amidst that city that has of undations, whose maker and builder is God. After a beautiful life of more than 65 years, like a golden sheaf of grain, came to its end May 1, 1912. She was born November 21, 1847, in Mercer county, where she resided most of her life. She was married October 18, 1879 to Henry Chasteen, of this county. To this union was born one son, Raymond, who now resides in Indianapolis, Ind., and as the death came so suddenly, to the good woman, he was not able to be with her at the end. She was converted in her early life and joined the Baptist church and remained steadfast to the end.

The Rev. James Edmiston, of Parksville preached the funeral and the tears of the whole community. We wish we had room for the beautiful things that the pastor said of her at the sad, solemn hour. Cultured in intellect; refined with a most sympathetic and social nature; loving music and flowers, practical housewife, delighting in the songs of Zion; and working for years in the church and social life of her community, until the last twelve or fourteen years which was prohibited by her bad health.

Her long life of service and helpfulness has left fragrance among us and in the great day, many will rise up and call her blessed. So may peace be to her dust.

THAT "COW" QUESTION

Ed Sibold Wants To See Her Give Five Gallons a Day.

The "Cow" question seems really to be approaching serious proportions. Ed Sibold, of Lexington, who started the contest with his account of his great bovine, has some remarks to make in regard to several other extra good ones that have been written about in the I. J. Here's a few more remarks, Mr. Sibold makes on the subject:

Lexington, May 1st.
To Mr. Joseph Bishop and Mr. Hustonville correspondent.—I was under the impression that Hustonville west dry in February, but from the tone of your answer to my letter published in the I. J. something is wrong. What are you fellows trying to hand me? Listen Mr. Bishop:—In the first place I congratulate you on owning a cow that produces a larger quantity of butter than any cow in this whole wide world, your cow gives 5 gallons of milk per day and each gallon will make 1 1-4 lbs butter. I never heard the like in my life. If it is a fair question I will ask where in the world did this cow come from, how old is she and what does she look like?

Listen 187 1-2 pounds butter per month from one cow or over 46 pounds per week. This cow is worth a million dollars. If you ship the butter over here you can get 30 cents, which would bring you $56.25, you can get 20 cents for the butter-milk, which would bring you $30 per month or a grand total of $86.25 per month. If I owned your cow I wouldn't clerk a single day longer as I could live off the income derived from this wonder. If your cow were eligible for the contest I would take off my hat to you and acknowledge that I am the worst beat man who ever boasted about a cow. The contest is for 5-year-old cows with no sons, grandsons or great grandsons. What prompted me in writing the first article was a short piece I noticed in the I. J. in February telling about some 1-owning a 5-year-old Jersey cow that has four heifer calves and stated it was doubtful if there was anyone owning a cow that could equal this record. I gave my 5-year-old record and I consider the record I gave a better one and as to the quantity of milk, it wasn't mentioned and has nothing to do with this contest. I will give the record of my 5-year-old cow again. She has 4 heifer calves, and her 2 oldest calves have four heifer calves, and what I would like to know is this, who has a Jersey cow 5-years-old that can beat this record? Remember there must be nothing but females in order to be eligible for this contest. Mr. J. M. Lunsford's article in regard to his cow making two pounds of butter per day, and it closed by asking who could beat that? My cow can for one. I am safe in saying that my 5-year-old cow will make 3 pounds butter per day as she gives 3 gallons of milk a day. When I say 3 gallons, I mean 3 gallons strained and if I counted the foam when milking, I could say five gallons a day.

When it comes to the butter producing cow, Mr. Lunsford's cow and the one I have reference to are not in it with Mr. Bishop's cow as his makes more than twice the amount of mine and more than three times the amount of Mr. Lunsford's but at that I consider our cows fair specimens of milk and butter producers.

Mr. Bishop, here is a little proposition I submit to you for your consideration. If your cow gives 5 gallons of milk a day and each gal. make 1 1/4 lbs butter, I will give you my whole herd for her, yes, I will go a little farther, by giving you $50 cash extra and pay the expense in shipping cows. Mr. Bishop this is just a friendly letter and I hope you will take it in the same spirit in which it is given. Don't understand me to be insinuating that you didn't tell the truth. I believe in making the statement you did that you believed you were right and it was your honest belief, that your cow would do what you stated, but Mr. Bishop you are honestly mistaken. I have no desire to inquire your feelings and wouldn't for the world, as I have great respect for you and as I said I hope you will take what I have said in the spirit in which it is written. Mr. Hustonville correspondent you will have to come again. I am still from Missouri and from the extreme end of Missouri and you know when a person says he is from Missouri, the definition is—show me and when you show me a cow that can show more heifer calves in the same length of time, I will take off my hat and keep quiet. Yes I will go away back and sit down and never boast again about my cow. In closing I wish to thank the worthy young editor of the I. J. for his kindness in publishing my letter. If I am beaten I had rather a Lincoln county person would beat me than any other person on earth. ED SIBOLD.

SEVERANCE & SON

HOGWALLOW NEWS

A report has reached Hogwallow that the town of Tickville this week was flooded with circulars. No great damage is reported however.

Raz Barlow thinks our Deputy Constable should wear his star on the back of his coat, as most of the meanness is done behind his back. The backwardness of spring is going to cause a lot of our citizens to get terribly behind with their fishing.

After having observed the picture of W. L. Douglas with price quotations accompanying it, Tobe Moseley is wondering what office he is running for.

The mail carrier was several days late this week in arriving, he having stopped along the way many times to discuss the almost impassible condition of the roads.

Columbus Allsop will from now on study the cattle market quotations each week in order that he can know just exactly what his calf is worth.

Miss Flutie Belcher has a new hat. It has two large wings on it and the next thing you know she will be making a flying trip to Tickville.

When you see a man sitting with the palm of his hand across his face he is either an author or has the toothache.

As soon as the Postmaster can sell the rest of his box of Daniel Boone cigars he is going to have another nice new postoffice box for rent.

PUBLIC SALE

As executor of the will of the late Anderson Carr, I will sell at public outcry to the highest and best bidder, in Stanford, Ky., in front of the court house door, at 2 P. M., on Saturday, May 25, 1912

The following real estate, situated in Lincoln county, Ky., about two miles south of Stanford, Ky., and bounded as follows:

On the east by the lands of Jas. Pettus and Wm. Baughman, on the south by the lands of Tom Crow and others, on the west by the county road, on the north by lands of Jacob Gander, containing 85 acres of land, more or less. This land will be surveyed before the day of sale and will be sold by the acre in accordance with such survey.

Terms of Sale:—Purchaser to give good and approved bankable notes for the purchase money, one half thereof due and payable six months from date of sale, and the balance in twelve months from date of sale, lien retained on land sold for such deferred payments.

I will, as such executor, at the same time and place, sell a lot of personal property, including a show case, a lot of brick and other things too numerous to mention.

A. T. Nunnelle, Exor.

Great Damage By Floods

Food and shelter for 160,000 persons probably will have to be provided by the War Department for another month as a result of the renewed floods of the Mississippi river territory.

As rapidly as possible the destitute are being turned over to local relief committee, but reports from the army engineers indicate that the daily average to be served with "plantation rations" by the commissary department continues to be about 160,000 and the cost is $10,000 a day.

Secretary Stimson estimates that additional appropriations of $500,000 for the commissary department and $150,000 for the quartermaster's department will be required to cover relief work expenses. To date the quartermasters have spent $277,179 for food, tents and boats, while the commissary has spent $236,600.

An Insult to Democracy

In speaking of the warfare the Courier-Journal is waging on Gov. McCreary and his friends, Editor Jim Richardson, of the Glasgow Times, said last week:

In plain words, the Courier-Journal which has been a bolter, a traitor and a incubus on the Democratic party for years, boldly threatens that, in case the Democrats win in the coming national election, the pathway to office shall be blocked for any Democrat, who dares to oppose anything the editor of the Courier-Journal and Senator-elect James demand.

It is unthinkable that Senator James has joined hands with his ancient enemy—an enemy so virulent to democracy that Senator James introduced a resolution into the Shakerford convention kicking both the Courier-Journal and its editor out of the democratic party—a resolution that was adopted.

Kentuckians hold principle above the pie-counter, and this infamous threat that they must barter the one or lose the other, will meet with the contempt and execration it deserves. If Senator James is hooked up with this class of cattle, the sooner the public understands it the better. As a life-long friend of Senator James, the editor of the Times demands to know whether or not Senator James is a party to, or sanctions, this unspeakable insult to the Democracy of Kentucky?

E. D. Pennington, County Surveyor, General Farm Surveying, Phone 172, Stanford, Ky.

CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION

Hon. Woodson May.

Hon. Woodson May, of Somerset, is a candidate for re-election as democratic State Central Committee-men from the Eleventh district. There is no harder worker for the party in the state than Mr. May, and his splendid record deserves an endorsement.

GOV. MC'REARY

Gives Strong Reasons for an Uninstructed Delegation

Gov. McCreary has taken the position that Kentucky's delegation to the democratic national convention should go uninstructed in order that they can be in position to vote for the candidate who shall seem most able to carry the doubtful states, as Kentucky is certain to be in line for the nominee, whoever he may be. The governor's strong statement regarding this matter is as follows:

"The outlook in the presidential contest has changed in the last month. President Taft seemed to have a decided advantage one month ago, and it was the universal opinion that he would be the Republican nominee for President. Since that time Roosevelt has carried Illinois, Maine and Pennsylvania, and has strong prospects of carrying other states. It is apparent that many republicans have lost confidence in election of Taft and are hunting for a stronger candidate. At present they seem to be turning to Roosevelt, but it is not certain he will be nominated for president, as many of the conservative republicans are concentrating in some states on Justice Hughes, the former Governor of New York, who will be greatly weakened, however, by his opposition to the income tax law.

"There never has been a time since I have been in public life when Democratic opportunities and Democratic prospects in a presidential race were better than at present. They are improving all the time, and Democrats should be careful and preserve the good condition which now exists. President Taft's pledge that he would reduce tariff taxation, repeatedly made in his speeches when he was a candidate for President the last time, his approval, after his election, of the Payne-Adrich tariff bill, which increased taxation and his vote of the three bills passed by Congress, reducing tariff taxation on woolen goods, on cotton goods and on farming implements have greatly weakened him in his present race for the nomination and many Republicans believe that, if he is nominated, he will be defeated.

"It is clear, also, that the Republicans are now so divided and embittered that they will not with unanimity support either Taft or Roosevelt, if one of them should be nominated.

"The faithful and satisfactory record made by Democrats in Congress who have been true to every pledge, who are now harmonious and united, and who can refer to such legislation as governmental regulation of railroad rates, the election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people, the publicity of campaign contributions, the reduction of tariff taxes, the overthrow of monopolies, and I may add also, the fidelity of the Democrats of the Kentucky Legislature to the pledges in our platform, put Democrats of Kentucky, as well as Democrats in every state in splendid condition, with very satisfactory prospects for a victory at the next presidential election.

"The most important demand in Kentucky now is for Democrats to preserve harmony and unanimity. All the Democratic candidates for the nomination for president are worthy, able men, and two of them were born and reared in Kentucky. I could support any of the four candidates for president with enthusiasm if nominated. The success of the Democratic party is paramount to the success of any individual, and I believe now, as I believed and stated in a speech in Frankfort last January, that the Kentucky Democratic Convention should not instruct for any candidate for president, but select and send to the National Convention worthy and well qualified Democrats as delegates to represent us and leave them uninstructed.

I can make your old straw hats look like new. Also clean and press your clothes nicely. Give me a trial. Harry Broadus, next door to Tribune.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Messrs. Lillard, Fox & McDowell, sold to Forestus Reid in Boyle, 20 calves at $27 each; to Pence Bros., 14 800-pound cattle at 6 1-2 cents; of Hugh Wayne, 15 calves at $23 each and 1 bull for $40; 5 calves to Jake Hugely at $26; 18 800-pound cattle to Pence Bros., at 6 1-2 cents.

Evan Boling, Jr., a young farmer of the Parksville neighborhood, owns a valuable mare, with a wonderful record. She is a thoroughbred race mare. Mr. Boling bought her a little over 9 years ago when horses were selling at a low price, paying $75 for her. Since that time, she has given birth to ten colts. He sold seven of them for $830, and has three left worth $400. Her previous owner had sold six colts from her for $1,000. She is now 19 years old, in foal again, has foaled 10 colts eight horses and eight mares, is a good mare yet, so good Mr. Boling will not sell her.

For Sale.—Forty head stock hogs sows and pigs. Write Box 45, McKinney, Ky. 37-2.

Messrs. D. F. Rankin and Wilson Alexander, prominent stock dealers of Lincoln county, were here yesterday and paid this office a call. They were on their way home, having been in this and Wayne counties in the search of cattle. They bought about 150 feeders for Sept. 1 to 15 delivery.—Somerset Times.

Clay Coleman, the prominent Edmonston stockman, who recently moved to the Shelby City neighborhood to make his future home, has formed partnership with J. E. Wright the well known jack man, and they will do an extensive business. They ship fine stock to all parts of the United States and several foreign countries. Mr. Coleman will be welcomed as a resident in this part of the state.

Will H. Shanks bought 30 acres of land from A. T. Nunnally, living about four miles from Stanford on the Procherville pike last week. The purchase of this tract gives Mr. Shanks an outlet to the pike from his "101 Ranch" and makes a nice addition to his already handsome farm in that section of the county.

T. J. Hammonds, two miles out of Stanford on the Danville pike, delivered a nice bunch of ewes and lambs to Will Lilla, the Boyle county buyer last week. Mr. Lillard paid $4 a head for the sheep.

W. M. Bright, cashier of the Lincoln County National Bank, who is one of the most progressive farmers in the county "on the side" is having a six or seven acre tract of alfalfa put in on his fine farm a mile from town on the Danville pike. Mr. Bright is putting in the alfalfa according to the plan of Joseph E. Wing, the famous farm expert. He has covered the tract with about two tons of ground limestone to the acre, and will put in the alfalfa on that, as a result of which he expects to have one of the finest alfalfa beds in Lincoln county.

S. H. Baughman, who has been one of Lincoln county's largest tobacco growers for several years, has decided not to put in a crop of the weed this season. He has a number of large tobacco barns which he will use for stock and mule purposes.

The Lancaster Record says: Mr. James I. Hamilton is preparing to launch a new enterprise. He owns several hundred acres of land in the southwestern part of the county, which is hilly and covered with scrub timber and heavy undergrowth. The cost of clearing this land would more than exceed its present value, so Mr. Hamilton has hit upon a novel plan for clearing it. He proposes to purchase a thousand goats and place them upon the land the goats will devour the undergrowth and will scale the bark from the larger trees, and cause the trees to die, thereby making it a very easy matter to get rid of them. This is not an original idea with the gentleman, but is one very much in vogue with the dwellers on rough, uncleared land in many parts of the county. Mr. Hamilton also wishes to announce that within a year he will be ready to furnish goats to the various lodges throughout the county, who wish to make use of them in the exemplification of their degree work.

Groom-to-be Well Known Here

Mr. R. D. Armstrong, of Frankfort, announces the engagement of his daughter, Mrs. Mabel Armstrong Magoffin to Mr. Milton Elliott, of this city. The wedding will be a beautiful event of the early summer. The bride is one of the Capital's most charming and attractive young women and is much admired and loved here. Mr. Elliott is one of Lexington's most popular and highly esteemed young men. He is a prominent business man, holding the position as Kentucky representative for Ginn & Company. The news comes as quite an interesting surprise to hosts of friends of the attractive couple. This engagement is of great interest in this city as Mr. Elliott is so well known here.—Lexington Herald.

WHO CAN DOUBT SWORN TESTIMONY OF HONEST CITIZENS?

Some time ago I began the use of your Swamp-Root with the most remarkable results. For years I was almost a wreck and was a great sufferer. The doctors who treated me made me believe that my great sufferings were due to female trouble. I was so bad at times I would faint away and had sinking spells. Finally a new doctor was called in and he said that I had kidney trouble and gave me medicine, of which I took several bottles. I obtained some relief from this but I was getting weaker all the time; I could not sleep and suffered so much pain that my husband and children had to lift me in and out of bed. After this time two friends sent me word to try Swamp-Root, which I did, and I am glad to state that the first dose gave me great relief. After taking the third dose, I was helped into bed and slept half of the night.

I took several bottles of Swamp-Root and I feel that I owe my life to this wonderful remedy. The two family doctors said that I could not live three months, I would have to be helped in and out of bed ten to twenty times every night. After taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root for two days I was entirely free from getting up and could sleep soundly.

MRS. D. E. HILEMAN,

THROW GAME AWAY

Local Boys Have Richmond Normal Beaten Up to 8th Inning

(By "Germany Gibson.")

The Stanford High School ball team journeyed to Richmond Saturday to play the Eastern Kentucky State Normal nine and were defeated by a score of 7 to 5. Although they were beaten, the game showed Capt. McCarty where he might well improve his line-up, and when the men get in shape, this will be a hard nine to whip, for everyone fights to the last.

The local boys had the game on ice till the eighth inning, but the Normalites became too strong for them and Stanford gave way under the pressure.

For the home team, Lewis twirled a very clever game. He had plenty of smoke but was a little wild. Edwards, who relieved him in the 8th, did fine work. For Stanford, Embury did everything at his command and pitched what should have been a winning game. This was by far his best game this year. Capt. McCarty distinguished himself with a home run, one of the longest knocked balls ever seen on that diamond. Waters caught a great game, Penny playing in center till Spalding Hill sustained an injury to his hand, when they exchanged places. Penny taking the keystone sack. The line-up for the Stanford team was shaken up considerably. Edwards, of London, starred for the Normals. Very few balls were knocked out of the infield and with a few exceptions, battling on both sides was weak.

It seemed that Stanford had the game safely sewed up until the last half of the seventh, when they began throwing the ball around the lot with the usual disastrous results, and the Normalites they went out and won it.
